Before the Court is the parties' Certification [# 9]. The parties agreed that a stipulated protective order should be entered in this case and attached a proposed stipulated protective order to the Certification. Thus, the Court will construe the Certification to include a Motion for a Protective Order. After reviewing the motion, the record, and the applicable law, the Court will allow the motion.

Accordingly, the Court GRANTS the motion for protective order. The Court will issue a protective order following this Order.
